

Canine Behavioural Referral Form

Please ensure both sections are completed; Veterinarian section & Owners section before emailing the form to K999@email.com, or post to; Adam Hobbs, 16 Holly Drive, Penyffordd, Chester, Cheshire, CH40NE.

Medical conditions or issues can become a causal factor for behavioural problems. Veterinarian involvement is essential in order to either identify or rule out such possibilities prior to embarking on a behavioural specialist consultation.

A brief description of the problematic behaviour;

Behavioural modification and re-education should only be undertaken by qualified and experienced professionals recognised by an association or council. Adam Hobbs of K999 is a full member of the Canine & Feline Behavioural Association which is in turn a member of Britain's Pet Education Training and Behaviour Council. Insurance companies who cover behavioural problems in their policies may assist with covering costs as they recognise and accept the CFBA.
